PROFILE

- Enthusiastic Computer Science student with a passion for technology and innovation, having recently completed my second year. Eager to delve into the digital realm, I bring a solid foundation in programming, algorithms, and OOP fundamentals, along with a keen interest in software development. Currently seeking a software development internship to apply and enhance my skills, I am committed to continuous learning and growth, with the drive to make meaningful contributions and evolve in the software field.

INTERESTS

IT — I am passionate about new technologies, both as a user and as someone who loves to learn. I enjoy exploring the latest trends, understanding how things work, and absorbing as much knowledge as possible. Currently, I am delving into .NET technologies in the field of software development., Books — I have a deep appreciation for fiction books, especially the classics, and I also love getting lost in fantasy worlds. I enjoy poetry and drama, and occasionally, I pick up a self-help book. Additionally, I like to write for my own things sometimes., Music — I'm really passionate about music, enjoying a wide range of genres, and I often spend time practicing guitar., Gaming — I've always been a gamer at heart, though these days I don't have as much time for it. But when I do get some free time, I love diving into a good video game. I'm not really into competitive gaming; I prefer story-driven ones. A game with a captivating story-line, great gameplay, graphics, and all the rest, is worth playing even if it's just once. The memories from those moments always stick with me.
